JAGOW ATTACKED FOR SUPPRESSING CENSURE OF U. S.

Hot Debate in the Reichstag Over the Rules of Censorship.

BERLIN (via London), May 26.—The United States played a large role yesterday in the censorship debate in the Reichstag. Two of the principal speakers, Deputy Oertel, Conservative, and Deputy Hirsch, National Liberal, severely criticized the Government for measures which they alleged were adopted to suppress criticism of the United States in the newspapers and to put brakes on the agitation for a more vigorous submarine campaign. Deputy Oertel, who is editor of the Deutsche Tageszeitung, attacked the authorities vigorously for their attempt to suppress the gigantic petition got up by Prof. Dietrich Schaefer of Berlin University against Germany yielding to the demands of the United States. Deputy Oertel also attacked the Government for the censorship which has been exercised over editorial comment on the American note and for prohibiting the republication of an anti-American article written by the Conservative leader, Heydebrand. Foreign Minister von Jagow, in reply, declared emphatically that both the military and political authorities had agreed that negotiations with America must not be impeded by press comment.

VIENNA (via Berlin to London), May 26.—What are alleged to be the conceptions of neutrality of President Wilson and the people of America generally and President Wilson's attitude toward the Central Powers almost from the beginning of the war are severely criticized in an article by Baron von Hengelmüller, former Austro-Hungarian Ambassador to the United States, in an article in the Neue Freie Presse.

The writer says it was not to be expected or demanded that either President Wilson or the United States should side with the Central Powers, but he complains bitterly that the efforts of the United States have been concentrated on the submarine issue and that no real attempt has been made to secure genuine freedom of the seas or the protection of neutral shipping.

U-BOAT NOT GERMAN.

Overseas Agency Explains Sinking of Submarine by Steamer.
BERLIN, May 26 (by wireless to Sayville).—The probable sinking in the Baltic of a submarine which was rammed by the Swedish steamer Angermanland on May 23 is reported to-day by the Overseas News Agency, which adds that competent authorities state the submarine could not have been German. According to the news agency account the submarine suddenly appeared on the surface at the bow of the Angermanland off Swartholmen and was rammed by the Swedish steamer. The submarine immediately submerged and is believed to have been sunk.

UNUSUAL.
(From the Baltic Express.)
"What's so unusual about your maid on a boat?"
"Why, the old girl actually keeps a parrot and a cat."

PATERSON MANUFACTURER WON'T WED HIS TYPIST

Mill Man Announces and Later Cancels "Engagement" to Young Girl.

PATERSON, N. J., May 26.—Charles B. Ackerman, proprietor of the Universal Mill Supply Company, announced his engagement to Miss May Dorman, his seventeen-year-old stenographer, in the newspapers Tuesday. Now he has written to the newspapers that "on account of interference on the part of the girl's parents" the engagement was cancelled.

The girl's father, Charles Dorman, a silk weaver with a small farm at Peekness, N. J., refuses to admit that there ever was an engagement.

Ackerman, who is well-to-do, said to-day he had grounds for a breach of promise case, but intended to drop the matter. Another stenographer was at Miss Dorman's place in Ackerman's office to-day.

Editor Charges Abduction.
LAWRENCE, Mass., May 26.—The removal of Joseph J. Eitor, L. W. W. organizer, from this city to Boston last Monday, was the subject of charges of abduction filed against City Marshal Maurice F. McKenna and three other members of the local Police Department. Eitor says he was forcibly carried out of town in an automobile by officers who had no warrant.

Ended Life in Hoboken Hotel.
Before ending his life by inhaling gas in a room in Meyers Hotel, Third and Hudson Streets, Hoboken, some time Wednesday night, a man who registered there earlier in the day as Francis T. Goodman of Philadelphia wrote a letter to an undertaker instructing him to call and get the body the next day and to hold it until he heard from Thomas Goodman of Melrose Park, Ill. To-day the undertaker received instructions from the man's relatives to cremate the body. No other comment came with the message.
